> Governs eligibility, default spending limits, reconciliation deadlines, and misuse consequences for the TechTrapture corporate card.

1. Eligibility & Issuance

Corporate cards are issued to employees whose roles require regular business spending, on manager and Finance approval. The card remains the property of TechTrapture and must be returned on request or on termination.

Cards are issued through the TechTrapture Card Portal and activated by the cardholder.

2. Default Spending Limit

The default monthly spending limit is $5,000 per cardholder. Higher limits may be granted up to $15,000 with director approval, or above $15,000 with VP Finance approval.

Single-transaction limits default to $2,500; transactions above this require pre-authorization in the Card Portal.

3. Reconciliation

Cardholders must reconcile and code all transactions in the Expense Portal within 10 business days of the statement close date. Itemized receipts follow the Expense Reimbursement Policy thresholds.

Unreconciled balances older than 30 days may result in temporary card suspension.

4. Prohibited Use & Misuse

The corporate card must never be used for personal purchases, cash advances, or to circumvent the Travel & Per Diem Policy. Personal use, even if later repaid, is a policy violation.

Repeated or deliberate misuse may result in card revocation, recovery of funds from payroll, and disciplinary action up to termination.
